ADDITIONAL NAMES POSTED

By the Mason County Exemption
Board Yesterday—First 240 Men To Be Examined Have Been Notified When To Appear Before Board.

The Mason County Exemption
Board yesterday posted in the Government building 160 more names of young men who are to appear for examination within the next few days.
At the same time the names were posted the men were notified through the mail on what day to be on hand for the examination. However, failure to get the notice through the mail does not excuse anyone for not being on hand on the day named.

This additional list posted yesterday makes the total of 240 who are supposed to furnish the 120 men that Mason county is to furnish. It is not generally thought that it will be possible to get the necessary number of men out of this number. It is more than likely that it will require the examination of at least 500 men to get the 120.

Below we give the names of the young men who were notified yesterday and the day on which they are to report for examination before the Mason County Board:

THE JOINT CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE

President Wilson's objection to the creation of a joint congressional committee on war expenditures, with a majority of that committee composed of members of his own party, is based on the false assumption that this is his war, that he is responsible for its efficient management, and that he alone is infallible. With equal reason a President of a corporation, as soon as elected, might say "we will abolish our Constitution and by-laws and disqualify all the Board of Directors as soon as they have delegated to me all their powers and voted me the right to expend all the assets of the corporation."

President Wilson is undoubtedly correct in the assertion that oration of such a committee could be interpreted only as a lack of confidence in the executive. The fact is that our system of government, providing as it does for three coordinate branches, is in itself an expression of lack of confidence in the executive acting alone. Throughout the world today, there is lack of confidence in dictators.

The creation of a joint congressional committee on war expenditures is not necessarily an expression of lack of confidence in the President's integrity, but it indicates lack of confidence in the ability of any one man to conduct the affairs of a great government such as this when involved in the greatest war in history. It is axiomatic that centralization of power in an individual can only result in operations commensurate with the individual's integrity, ability and experience. The record of the Wilson administration to date fully justifies lack of confidence. In time of war, as in time of peace, his administration has been partisan, sectional, vacillating and inefficient. To put more ships on the seas is the pressing need of the hour. Although the act creating the shipping board was passed last September, that board, selected by the President after three months' delay, has been wasting its energies by strife among its members. At the outset of our participation in the war, the President delayed urgent legislation by pressing his demand for a needless throttling of the press. Inexperienced if not incompetent men are retained in his cabinet. Partisan service figures more than experience in the most recent of important appointments.

But it is needless to enumerate instances pertinent to the issue of lack of confidence. Congress gets its existence, its powers and its responsibilities from the same constitution that created the office of President. Members of the Senate and House are the only officers chosen by direct vote of the people. They are charged with responsibility for raising armies, providing revenue, and authorizing expenditures. It is not only their right but their duty to see that funds are effectively spent in accordance with law.

Creations of the joint committee involves vastly more than the question of confidence in the President. It involves the very fundamentals of democracy. The war is a direct outgrowth of centralized power in executives. If the legislative body in Germany had possessed and exercised the legislative powers of a republic, there would have been no war. Assertion of divine right and assumed infallibility must be overthrown in Europe and must be forestalled in America. This can be accomplished only by courageous exercise by Congress of those duties and powers vested in it by the constitution. The time and the occasion are here.

In his opposition to creation of the congressional committee President Wilson has raised the issue between autocracy and democracy. It is an issue which must be squarely met and in which democracy must not yield.

ANOTHER CANARD

George Creel, who runs the Creel-Daniels Government Daily, is said to have been the author of another romance. This time it is a cereal story, relating to canned peas. Creel spread broadcast the news that the Government had ordered its needs for the army and navy in canned peas at "materially under the prevailing market," thus indicating that "we are on the job". The grocery trade learns that no order for peas has yet been given, that no price has been set, and that all there was to the story was the issuance of the terms and conditions of the proposed trading. In short, Creel could not distinguish between the conditions of a proposed bid and a formal award. Come again, George!

The continuing importance of the Crown Prince's army recalls Rae-maker's cartoon showing the Kaiser and his heir standing on a great mound of dead soldiers, the latter complaining that "this hill is not yet high enough for us to see 'Verdun'." After another year of slaughter of his faithful Germans the Crown Prince finds his mound of dead twice as high but still he can not see Verdun, which is, in fact, farther rather than nearer. For, after long since ceasing to make any advance through seas of blood, the ruthless heir of the Hohenzollerns has of late lost ground.

The story is told of an industrious knitter who sat up in bed to resume work in the small hours and when her sleepy husband growled she explained: "If I don't finish this before breakfast the allies won't win the war. Besides Mrs. Brown is four inches ahead of me on her sweater." The cream of the unconscious humor was in the after thought.

Paris safes are offering "Ponlet a le Wilson," which is all very well when chicken dinners can be afforded, but what they ought to be offering is Johnny cake or hoe cake a le Hoover and teaching the French people to employ plentiful corn instead of scarce wheat.

What's the matter with Germany? The disease is complicated, but an important part of it consists in the suffrage system that permits the military and other masters to vote three times and the people—some of the people—to vote once.

Great $10,000 Saddle Horse Stake For 1917 Kentucky State Fair

Owners and Breeders Throughout the Country Interested in President Cohen's Ambitious Enterprise.

RICHLIEU KING, 1916. HERMAN STRAUS & SONS' CO. CUP. LEVY BROTHERS' CUP.

Two of the array of trophies offered in the great $10,000 five galloped saddle horse stake at the fifteenth annual Kentucky State Fair, the week of Sept. 10, are magnificent silver cups donated by the two leading mercantile establishments of Louisville in their lines, the Levy Brothers' Clothing Company and the H. Straus & Sons' Co. department store.

HON. MATS. COHEN, commissioner of agriculture and, by virtue of this office, president of the Kentucky State Fair, has secured a $10,000 five galloped saddle horse stake for the 1917 Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville the week of Sept. 10-15.

Commissioner Cohen, with the unanimous endorsement and enthusiastic support of the members of the state board of agriculture, was uniting in his efforts to secure the interest and co-operation of horse owners and breeders throughout the country, and his plans were crowned with splendid success. From nearly every city of any size in the United States letters have poured in upon the commissioner eulogizing his brilliant achievement and commending the vitalizing effect of such a project upon the horse interests of the country.

World Will Look to America. The commissioner has made it known that this very motive inspired him in his efforts for this gigantic prize list, as it is his firm belief that at the close of the present disastrous and exhausting war all foreign nations will look to America for foundation stock and new blood and that this nation should prepare for the demand. At present he declares that the breeding operations of this country have ceased to an alarming extent and that just such inspiration as this hitherto unheard of stake is necessary to arouse the horsemen and breeders of the United States.

Entrance Fee Waived. In addition to the magnitude of the prize money, the fact that any entrance fee is waived and the horse owner or breeder privileged to enter as many animals as he cares to nominate free of charge and that stable room and bedding are provided by the State Fair without cost to the owner is certain to attract the attention of the entire horse world and to make the five galloped saddle horse events of the 1917 Kentucky State Fair the most sensational saddle horse affair of the age.

The battle royal for the $10,000 prize will open Monday night, Sept. 10, with a grand prize total of $2,500 offered the five galloped saddle stallion of any age who bears off the championship honors of America in his sex class.

RUGGLES CAMPMEETING

Comes to a Close After Splendid 10 Days' Meeting—Dr. Bysshe Made Splendid Addresses Sunday.

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 4—It looks now as if this would go through as a rain-less campmeeting, something very unusual for Ruggles. It is now late Saturday evening without one drop of rain. With a weather forecast of "fair and warm" for Sunday we feel we can look forward to an ideal day for the big Sunday.

Those who went to Maysville today to vote came back wishing with all their hearts that they could stay out at this cool place until a cool wave struck town. If you want to know how to appreciate Ruggles Campgrounds just leave here in time to reach Maysville in the heat of the day and then return to the campmeeting. If this doesn't convince you of the delights of this place we will give it up.

The big treat of today was the sermon by President Franklin of Union College. He spoke at the morning service. As a sermon it measured right up to either that Bishop Anderson delivered. It made the Methodist feel proud that they had such a man the head of our Kentucky College at Barbourville.

The young peoples' meeting was under the leadership of Rev. N. G. Carroll of West Bedford, Ohio.

Mrs. S. K. Hunt and little daughter, came out today to remain over Sunday.

Dr. Bysshe of France, arrived during the afternoon. Rev. Hunt having made the trip to Maysville to meet him.

Miss Sallie Bullock and niece, Miss Elizabeth Bullock, of Maysville, came out today to remain over Sunday.

Miss Viola Miller of Maysville came out last night and will remain until the close as a guest at the Rosser cottage.

Miss Lena Walsh of Covington, spent a day and night with her parents returning this afternoon.

Rev. A. W. Insko, the popular young Salsersville preacher, was the leader of the early morning prayer service. He left for his appointment during the morning.

Mr. John R. Brodt left for home this morning to cast his vote in the primary.

Rev. W. G. Bradford of Augusta, preached at the evening service. An immense crowd was out. The campgrounds were full of people.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hook of Peebles, Ohio, came into camp this evening and will camp in their cottage over Sunday.

Just at the close of the evening service a bit of excitement was occasioned by the arrest by Policeman Hendrickson of a bootlegger just outside the grounds. A fellow by the name of Ben Muse, claiming Muse's Mills as his home, was caught doing a land-office business, dealing out the "murder juice" at two dollar per pint. He had not been at the business long before the eagle eye of Mr. Hendrickson detected him at his unlawful work.

He was taken before Squire Henderson, and being unable to give bond, was sent to jail at Vanesburg. It does look as if such characters would find out after awhile that it is dangerous business to try to pull such a stunt on Ruggles campgrounds. Its a sure shot that very few escape our splendid police.

Mr. Leonard Thompson who lives on the campgrounds and Miss Pearl Thomas of Burtonville, tied themselves away to Maysville yesterday where they were married.

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 5—The last Sunday and the last day of another campmeeting. And of all the big days this has excelled them all. While it just a little too warm still the people come. And such a crowd! All records are broken. A new high water mark has been set.

The Board of Directors are wearing broad smiles. They feel that their work has been rewarded and are encouraged to go ahead with improvements for another year. The crowd has been orderly. Everyone that could possibly get under the tabernacle attended the services. Fully a thousand people heard the sermon of Dr. Bysshe at the morning service. A few

We will not attempt to tell even all of the Maysville people who were here today. The woods was full of them. It was a dandy crowd and no mistake. It is a pretty sight to sit on our porch in the second story of the Old Kentucky Home and watch the moving crowd.

So far as we can learn Prof. C. S. Dale had the banner crowd to serve dinner to. He had just every fifty at dinner. Say! How much chicken do you reckon that crowd could consume?

At the close of the meeting every song book belonging to the campmeeting and a lot borrowed from the Third Street M. E. Church were sold. A new song book will now have to be placed in the home church. The music has been the best ever this year. The Association never was so pleased with a musical leader as they have been with Rev. Ragan. No wonder the song books sold like hot cakes. Rev. Ragan took the opportunity at the closing service to thank the choir and all for their hearty cooperation in making the music a success. The representatives of the Maysville choir came in for special mention. They have starred in solos, quartets, sextets, and have been the moving force of the chorus. One of the best numbers of the campmeeting was a sextet sung at the morning service today. Two numbers of the Easter Cantata "The Lord of the Easter-tide" were sung in such a manner as to draw applause from the crowd.

The Board of Directors meets Monday morning to wind up the business affairs of the meetings. The improvements to be made during the year will be discussed.

And now we are at the close for another year. We can truthfully say that the campers all appreciate the space allotted by the Maysville papers to these notes day by day. There is always a clamor for the papers and when the mail is a little late the paper is besieged with anxious inquiries for the papers. With a persons were picked out in the woods, made to give bond and then put off the grounds. With the police protection we've had it has been a hard matter for evil-doers to get by.

There is doubt that many were attracted to the campmeeting today to hear Dr. Bysshe. They were amply repaid for coming. Never has a campmeeting crowd heard a more thrilling description of war conditions in Europe. Dr. Bysshe has had a wonderful experience and knowing conditions he is able to give at first hand just the information that we Americans need to know. It is a sure thing that what our country is up against was brought closer to the people here today than ever before. On account of the failure of Rev. L. L. Pickett to show up for the afternoon service Dr. Bysshe was called upon for an extra address. Fact is after hearing his first address the people clamored for more about the war. And so being a willing Methodist preacher he didn't object to being worked over time. In the afternoon his sermon was made of personal experiences which you may know were very interesting. Again this evening he addressed a tabernacle full of people, the closing service of the campmeeting. We never had a campmeeting close just as this one. Instead of an appeal for people to come to the altar for consecration, the appeal was made for the people to take this war proposition seriously, and to realize that it is as much our war as it is that of the Allies. As a slight appreciation of Dr. Bysshe a voluntary offering of one hundred dollars was made to take care of a scholarship for one orphan in France for a year. Dr. Bysshe spoke to more people in the three services than has any other preacher here within our knowledge.

sonal word of appreciation for courtesies extended we bring these notes to an end for 1917.

J. H. RICHARDSON.

NEW RULER OF GREECE TAKEN OATH OF OFFICE

Athens, August 4—Alexander today took the oath of office amid great pomp and ceremony. Preceded by a troop of soldiers, the king, in a carriage drawn by four horses, proceeded from the palace to the hall of the Chamber of Deputies through streets lined with cheering citizens. Reaching the chamber at 11:30 o'clock, the king was met by parliamentary committee, the council of ministers, and members of the clergy and escorted to the legislative hall, which was profusely decorated with flowers and national flags.

The diplomatic corps was present in full dress and the chamber was filled with deputies, senators and guests.

The king wore the white uniform of a general, with numerous decorations. His entrance was the signal for hearty cheers, which he acknowledged with graceful bows. As he remained standing to take the oath Premier Venizelos was at his right and the president of the chamber at his left.

CRYING FOR HELP Lots of It in Maysville But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed; Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble. It is often the kidney's cry for help.

Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys.

Read what Doan's have done for Maysville people. Mrs. E. Sphar, E. Second and Walnut Sts., Maysville, says: "Whenever I have heard anyone complain of their kidneys, I have never seen Doan's Kidney Pills fail to help them. I have been greatly benefitted by them myself. At times, my back has ached and I have suffered from lameness through the small of my back. When I have been in that way, I have used a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Chandler's Drug Store. They have always quickly removed the trouble."

Mrs. Sphar is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Sphar had, the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui. By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.
